

Wild about the Arts

Thanks to the generosity of Bonitas Medical Fund, KwaZulu-Natal artists and art lovers will again be treated to a gala art event comprising the annual Art for Conservation exhibition and auction and a celebratory black tie dinner at Sibaya Casino on 9th October 2009. This year's theme is 'Go Wild' with the banquet room decorated accordingly and guests invited to go wild themselves when dressing for the black tie event. Funds raised from the auction will go towards the Wildlands Conservation Trust's Indigenous Trees For Life project as well as critical conservation research initiatives including leopard, wild dog and elephant monitoring projects. The exhibition will feature some 200 original artworks from 70 artists, including sculptures by Llewellyn Davies and Sarah Richards, paintings, ceramics from Ardmore and Trayci Tompkins and even some leather rugs and ottomans by Klaus Manock. Tickets are available by calling Christine Bateson on +27 33 343 6380, or emailing christineb@wildlands.co.za. Visit www.wildlands.co.za for more information.
